5 Must-Have, No-Cost Resources for Homeschooling

http://www.thehomeschoolmom.com/teacherslounge/articles/must_have_no_cost_resources_homeschooling.php

There are many of you who cannot afford homeschooling curriculum this year. Does that mean that you should put your children into public school? No, what it means is that it is time to get creative, even inventive, when it comes to our children's education. And this is your place to start. I am going to share with you my top 5 "must-have" homeschooling resources that won't cost you a dime. Bookmark each of these sites and refer to them often as you prepare and teach your children during this upcoming school year.
